MEDALS,
LONDON,
1854, 1862.

HART, SON, PEARD & CO., having deferred for some time the issue of the present Section of their Illustrated Catalogue, in order to insert amongst the illustrations many of a more varied character—as regards design, construction, and purpose,—that have appeared in any similar Catalogue yet published, deem it well to state that such varieties by no means exhaustive.

While too well aware of the benefits now which may be made of the present publication by unscrupulous persons, H., S., P. & Co. confidently look for such a recognition of their efforts by lovers of "true principles," as shall secure for their artistic productions an increasingly appreciative demand.
